National nonprofit receives grant to construct NJ's first Green home for people with disabilities

National nonprofit receives Housing and Urban Development grant to construct NJ's first Green group home for people with disabilities

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

PRLog (Press Release) - Jul 13, 2010 - In January 2010, Community Options, a national nonprofit organization that develops homes and employment for people with disabilities announced that they would be working in partnership with Hopewell Township to develop the first green, sustainable group home for people with disabilities in New Jersey.

Recently, this project was deemed worthy of a grant through the Housing and Urban Development body that funds affordable housing projects across the country. The grant will permit the development of a group home for four persons with developmental disabilities. The home will be of a one-story design and will provide supportive services to assist the residents to live independently.

Plans call for the construction of this home to be LEED for
