National Nonprofit Wins Executive Management Award

(Nonprofits, Philanthropy, Business)

April 26, 2011- (Princeton, NJ) Community Options, a national nonprofit organization that develops homes and employment for people with disabilities is the proud recipient of the Smart CXO Executive Management Award from the Philadelphia SMART CEO magazine.

At an awards ceremony that took place on April 20th, Robert Stack, President and CEO along with Svetlana Repic-Qira, Regional Vice President, Courtney Eidel, Vice President of Human Resources and Nicole Rickenbach, Executive Assistant accepted the Executive Management Award for Community Options.

Collectively, the executive management team has worked for Community Options for 75 years and has over 120 years of experience in their respective fields. Each individual on the executive management team comes from different socio-economic backgrounds. Ranging in age from 32-55, the executive management team has varied backgrounds, priorities and interests, but when it comes to the organization's work, they are all on the same page.

“Our overarching commitment to provide the very best services is forged with a collective vision shared by all of our stakeholders,” says Robert Stack, Founder, President and CEO of Community Options.
