US Department of Health and Human Services Commissioner to deliver Keynote

The organization has recently confirmed that Commissioner Sharon Lewis of the Administration on Developmental Disabilities of the United States Department of Health and Human Services will be the distinguished Keynote speaker.

Sharon Lewis was appointed Commissioner of the Administration on Developmental Disabilities in March 2010. Prior to her appointment as Commissioner, she served as the Senior Disability Policy Advisor to U.S. House Committee on Education & Labor, advising members of the Committee on legislative strategy and disability-related policy issues in education, employment and healthcare, and as a Kennedy Public Policy Fellow for U.S. Senate Subcommittee on Children & Families. Sharon is the recipient of numerous awards, including the 2010 Distinguished Leadership in National Disability Policy Award and the Consortium for Citizens with Disabilities Chairman's Award.

We are honored to have Commissioner Lewis as our Keynote for this very important conference, says, Robert Stack, President and CEO of Community Options. Participants of the conference are sure to be engaged and bring back with them a plethora of resources that they can apply to their own lives as a result of the Commissioners keynote, he added.
